SPECIFIC SERVICES OFFERED

DYSLEXIA INTERVENTION Through an Orton Gillingham approach and evidence-based strategies, we help students with dyslexia develop the necessary skills to become confident and proficient readers.

READING INTERVENTION Reading intervention is tailored to each student's needs, whether that be letter naming, decoding, fluency, or comprehension, and is delivered using techniques that take into consideration each student's learning style. Multi-sensory techniques are used to teach decoding skills, all in a small group setting. SCA's interventionist collaborates with parents, teachers and the student, sharing reading assessments and educational plans to equip students to meet and/or exceed grade level reading standards.

MATH INTERVENTION Math intervention is designed to provide instruction to students who need extra support to master important math concepts ranging from number sense to problem-solving and specific skills related to counting, number operations, measurement, geometry, proportional relationships, expressions and equations, and more. Manipulatives are often used to provide concrete models of abstract math concepts, all in a small group setting.
